1. Significant Accounting Policies

i. Basis of Preparation and Presentation :

The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, in particular, these financial statements have been prepared in compliance with the mandatory accounting standards as prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014.

The financial statements have been prepared to facilitate the consolidation of the financial statements of the Ultimate Indian holding company in accordance with the accounting standard AS – 21, Consolidated Financial Statements.

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention, on going concern basis and on the accrual basis of accounting, unless otherwise stated. The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the results of operations during the reporting period. Although these estimates are based upon management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates.

ii. Impairment of Assets :

The carrying amounts of assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date. If there is any indication of impairment based on internal/external factors, an impairment loss is recognised whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the assets net selling price and value in use.

iii. Revenue recognition:

All revenues are generally recognized on accrual basis except where there is an uncertainty of ultimate realization.

iv. Foreign Currency Transactions:

Foreign currency transactions during the year are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary items are translated into the reporting currency at the closing rates of exchange prevailing at the date of the balance sheet. Non-monetary items, which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in foreign currency, are reported using exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognised as income or as expenses in the year in which they arise.

v. Tax expense:

Tax expense comprises of current and deferred tax. Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the UK.

Deferred income taxes are recognised for the future tax consequences attributable to timing differences between the financial statement determination of income and their recognition for tax purposes. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognised in income using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised and carried forward only to the extent that there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets of earlier year are re-assessed and recognised to the extent that it has become reasonably certain that future taxable income will be available against which deferred tax assets can be realized.

vi. Investments:

Investments are stated at cost including brokerage, fees, duties, and borrowing costs till the date of acquisition and other expenses directly attributable to the acquisition of the investment. Current investments are shown at lower of cost and fair value. Permanent declines in the value of long-term investments are recognized. Temporary declines in the value of long-term investments are ignored.

vii. Provisions and contingencies:

A provision is recognised when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to its present value and are determined based on management estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current management estimates.

viii. Earnings per share

The earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share comprise the net profit after tax. The number of share used in computing basic earnings per share is the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. The number of shares used in computing diluted earnings per share comprises the weighted average number of shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share, and also the weighted average number of shares, if any which would have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The number of shares and potentially dilutive shares are adjusted for the bonus and sub-division of shares.

ix. Segment reporting

Business segments are defined as a distinguishable component of an enterprise that is engaged in providing a group of related products and services and that is subject to differing risks and returns and about which separate financial information is available. This information is reviewed and evaluated regularly by the management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing the performance.

For the period under reference the company considers all its activities as relating to a single business segment and relating to a single geographical area.

Notes to the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2016.
